Comment Text :
-->The nuclear dinosaur is being kept alive by a consortium of self-interested people and industries which have already clearly exhibited their abuse of power and inability to act in the public interest. Such behavior is unworthy of anyone with a functioning central nervous system and a shred of moral integrity. Further, such actions meet the definition of treason, for which the time-honored punishment has been death. Today we have choices: electrocution, hanging, lethal injection and others being perfected by the Bush administration for use against citizens who have the courage to oppose their rush to Empire. We are outraged and cannot wait until November.
